

StudentDV

2007-2008 – Show 36

This month on Student DV...

Franklin High School shows us what's cool at school, Dry Creek Elementary School presents a documentary on cancer, and Casa Roble High School teaches us how to put together a news story.

Nick G. The Science Geek – Ben Franklin (26:10)

Conductors aren't just people who work on trains or direct orchestras. Nick G. The Science Geek tells us about some other types of conductors; ones we eat, drink and use each day. Don't miss out on this exciting experiment of fun. All aboard!

Featured Interviews & Videos

Pete Synold – What's Cool at School – Franklin High School (00:32)

Keri Johnson – My Mousetrap Car Experiment – Sandra J. Gallardo Elementary School (2:17)

Kelli Andersen – Peer Pressure – Will Rogers Middle School (7:01)

Gregg Laubacher & Hannah Gunter – Lego Germs – Andrew Carnegie Middle School (8:25)

Brent Baer – Feature Story Tutorial – Casa Roble High School (9:59)

Burrowing Owl Chicks – Sutterville Elementary School (16:14)

Elizabeth Craig – Cancer – Dry Creek Elementary School (17:18)

Vanessa Gomez – Drug Free – Andrew Carnegie Middle School (24:41)

Hosts

Vanessa Gomez

Carlos Eliason

If you have any comments or a student-produced video that you'd like to see on StudentDV, please send an email to: studentdv@secctv.org